Annual Meeting of the Supreme Council, Order of Equity. The Supreme Council, Order of Equity, concluded last evening at Equity Hall, new Mansur Building, this city, a two days' .session. 'The reports of the officers were very gratifying, showing that the order has, during the past two years, more than doubled its standing membership, having now 104 local councils and 2,500 members in good standing. The past officers are Miles M. Reynolds and Gen. James R. Carnahan. There has been paid to the members in the State of Indiana, in benefits, during the past two years, $25,000. The officers elected for the ensuing term are as follows:

Supreme councilor, Wm. Irvin; supreme vice councilor, Frank Bowers; supreme secretary, Wm. F. Landers; supreme treasurer, Granville S. Wright; supreme medical director, James H. Taylor, M. D.; supreme medical examiner, George W. Coombs, M. D.; supreme adjuster, J. Harvey Elair; supreme chaplain, John Albershardt, ail of this city; supreme marshall James H. supreme chaplain, John Albershardt, all of this city; supreme marshall, James H. Chamberlain, of Frankfort, Ind.; supreme guardian, Mrs. A. B. Copeland, of Logans-port, Ind.; supreme sentry, E. A. Facer, of Chicago, Ill.; supreme trustees, Isaac S. Boyer chairman, J. H. Orndorff secretary, Charles R. Jones, Miles M. Reynolds, Jas. C. Dickson, all of Indianapolis. The next session of the Supreme Council will be held in Indianapolis, in 1895.

Knights of the Maccabees. The Knights of the Maccabees adjourned at noon yesterday, concluding the two days' session by the election of officers for the ensuing year. The first part of the morning was devoted to Mrs. Bina West, who addressed the members of the order on the importance of thorough organization. Mrs. West is prominently connected with the ladies of the Maccabees. The result of the election of officers was as follows:

Commander, O. Kennedy, South Bend; lieutenant commander, J. Thomas, Peru; record keeper, W. E. Brown, Seymour; finance keeper, W. E. Lloyd, Elkhart; chaplain, M. S. Lewis, Marion; physician, E. O. Armfield, Elwood; master at arms, F. M. Dinstitt, Goshen; sergeant, C. C. Smith, Wabash; first guard, H. E. Crosby, Michigan City; second guard, G. G. Lowe, Plymouth; picket, W. H. Rivalry of Express Companies. The Wells, Fargo & Co. corporation that, for nearly half a century, has held control of the express business of the Pacific coast, Southern Pacific company. The Southern Pacine officials were formerly large holders of Wells-Fargo stock, and the express company had the inside track in securing contracts. Now it is reported that C. P. Huntington has sold his express stock and no longer has any interest in letting the Wells, Fargo & Co. have the contract un-less they bid for it.

How the Gang Now in Control of Democracy Expects to Win.

Sim Coy, the Notorious, Expresses the Ground for His Confidence in the Re-Election of Sullivan.

IT WILL BE MAYOR DENNY

Chairman Smith Believes He Will Succeed by 3,000 Votes.

Sullivan and Coy Talk from the Same Platform-More Developments of the Fraud Scheme.

"They have practically got us beat, but we have the boxes, and by God, we don't intend that they shall be declared elected." These were Sim Coy's words to another Democrat, yesterday, in speaking of the campaign outlook. It is the keynote of the Democratic campaign from now on. Fraud, corruption, ballot-box stuffing, importation of crooks and roughs, bribery-in these lies the only hope of success for Sullivan. Sim Coy has said it, and Sim knows whereof he speaks, for he has been made a prominent leader by the Sullivan gang of corruptionists for this very purpose. There are many men on the Democratic plicated in any such schemes, yet it is strange that they did not see the reason for the appointment of men like Sim Coy and "Charlie" Polster to conduct Sullivan's campaign. These two men, one a convicted the introduced John Rochford, who continued the eulogy of Coy, and pleaded for a continuance of Coyism. He then proceeded to lampoon the Republican party for the sole reason that it is opposed to Sullivan and the gamblers' regime. During these periods when he grow exceeding eleccity committee who would scorn to be imcriminal and the other a self-confessed highway robber, have been the most prominent figures in the Sullivan campaign. Night and day they have worked for the little, miserable Mayor, who has not the courage to slip from under the bondage of these two choice leaders. Now they have carried him so far that he cannot get under the cover of his good name and use it as a shield against these charges of cor-

Sim Coy is one of the kind of men who grows confidential to those whom he thinks are his friends. He is candid. His friends say that. Not many people say he is a hypocrite. When he says, "We have the boxes, and, by God, we do not intend that they shall be elected," he means that his old tricks, for which he served a term in the northern penitentiary, are to be tried again. Sim Coy himself says that several prominent men were spared by his going to the penitentiary; he shielded them, but the people of Indianapolis are resolved that he will shield no more men if he dares to stuff the ballot boxes on next Tuesday. that he will shield no more men if he dares to stuff the ballot boxes on next Tuesday. The part that, Coy is taking in the present campaign, after the promises he gave respectable members of his party that he would keep out of politics, has almost made tolerance a shame on the part of law-loving citizens. The commission of another like crime will make Sim Coy's road a very hard one, and a hard one for those who are hard one, and a hard one for those who are to be associated with him in the conspiracy. The man to whom Sim Coy made the re-mark is a man whom Coy thought would evidently keep the information close. The man let it leak.

The Sullivan machine knows that it is beaten; it knows that Mr. Denny and the Republican ticket will be honestly and fairly elected next Tuesday. The only desperate tactics to keep Mayor Sullivan in office another two years will consist in stuffing the ballot boxes or falsifying the returns. As Sim Coy intimated, this will be attempted. The Democratic heelers will first attempt to corrupt Republican judges and clerks. If this can be done the returns will be readily falsified. will be readily falsified.

EXPORTING COLORED VOTERS. The efforts to buy votes and to get colored Republicans out of the city will be kept up until noon of election day, and even longer. The T. Pinkerton Taggart plan of sending colored men to Chicago is being industriously worked, and a few men have already been furnished free transportation over the Big Four, with whom the Democratic committee made a dicker through Mayor Sullivan and the Board of Works, giving the road a public sidewalk that is very valuable. J. T. V. Hill and a man named Christy, both negroes, who have been hired by Taggart, are working the exportation scheme for the chairman. Christy is the owner of a small paper, whose columns are sold to the Democratic committee. Large blocks of transportation are furnished the committee by the Big Four under the guise of "editorial passes" issued to this sheet. The Journal exposed this part of the scheme a few days ago, and the Big Four officials who are acting for the road have not even entered a faint denial of the road's purchase of the South Delawarestreet sidewalk. R. W. Thompson, the Democrat negro who was kicked out of the post-office department for insulting two young girls, is posing as the editor of the sheet, and he is used to distribute the tickets. Very few of the negroes have confidence in

Hill and Christy went up to the home of Peter Vories, on Yandes street, a few days ago and tried to get him to go on one of the excursions to Chicago, promising to get him work there that would pay him big wages. They promised him free transportation and a little money. Vories is a colored man who refused their money, resolving to stay in Indianapolis and vote for Mr. Denny. The Big Four is beginning to advertise the excursions on which it is proposed to take these negro voters out of the city. They begin on the 8th, and one will also leave the city early on the morning of election day. The colored men are told when they apply for this free transportation that they will be given spending money, but that the money will not be handed them until the train reaches Chicago. By the time the train reaches Chicago, if it ever gets there, it will be too late for the men to return to Indianapolis and vote, and the man in charge will laugh at the men when they are charge will laugh at the men when they ap-ply for their "spenling money" at Chicago A Republican colored man went to T. Pinkerton Taggart a few days ago and told him he wanted to go on one of the free excursions. There was no trouble about this.
Then the colored man told Taggart that he might be able to get a party to go, if there would be any money in the work. Taggart told him that it would be worth his while if he could get a party of fifty together and bring the list to the committee room. The man wanted the money in advance, but Taggart was too smart for that. Finally he agreed to give the man $10 just about the time the Democratic negro gave Taggart a wink. That wink settled matters, and when the man went to talk to Taggart further and learn more about the scheme, Taggart told him that he did not care to have furthermore to do with him. In case the man had brought in a list, Hill and Christy were to have gone around and seen that all the men whose names were given were willing to go to Chicago.

COY AND SULLIVAN.

They Talked from the Same Platform Last Night-More Free Beer. A characteristic Democratic rally was held last night on "Irish hill," at the corner of Meek and Dillon streets, Sullivan was there, as was also a plentiful supply of Sullivan free beer. At this corner, just a half block from the new Home brewery, had been placed a speakers' stand. As soon as the shades of night fell a huge bonfire was kindled in the street. Across the street from the stand, at a convenient distance, was a grog shop, and it did a regular Sunday business last night, at the expense of the Democratic city commay have a competitor in the field before the beginning of the year. Within the next forty-five days the contract of Wells, Fargo & Co. with the Southern Pacific company will expire, and half a dozen express companies, including the Adams, will bid for the panies, including the Adams, will bid for the privileges of the lines controlled by the the privileges of the lines controlled by the in front of the saloon doors, and vied attempting it. The men to serve have been groom is prominent in Christian Enwith one another for an advantageous position from which to make a rush for the doors as soon as it was announced that the Sullivan beer was ready for dispensa-

> At 8 o'clock Sim Coy, John Rochford, the present committeeman, and three reporters ascended the stand, and Sim Coy was introduced as the master of ceremonies for the evening. He spoke briefly at length about himself. He recalled to their minds the fact that he had made the Board of Public Works give him 148 lights in the Ninth ward. This is strenuously de-nied by the board whenever it comes to their ears; "but the lights are there," says those periods when he grew exceeding eloquent he was greeted with applause, and then the crowd turned wistful eyes towards the saloon doors. The Cadi had arrived at the scene be-fore Rochford had concluded, and the young man gave way to the gamblers' consort. He told the crowd of all the bad things that had been said about him, and then "squared" himself by saying: "I then "squared" himself by saying: "I didn't do it." In the next breath, however, he said he wouldn't do it any more, and promised to be a good boy if the voters would only give him his job again. He reiterated his famous promise of last campaign to temper justice with mercy, except to a man who happened to have a razor in his pocket. Then the "little Mayor" arose to talk, and half the crowd retired to that portion of the street in front of the saloon. portion of the street in front of the saloon. After the speaking was over the usual announcement, the one which never fails to elicit cheers, that free beer was on tap at the saloon, was made, and there was a rush in which those thoughtful persons who had secured positions near the doors fared

DENNY BY 3,000 VOTES. Chairman Smith's Estimate of the Result of the Election. Chairman Smith, of the Republican city committee, is the most serenely confident man in the city as to the outcome of the election next Tuesday. His confidence, he says, is of that kind that is built upon the solid rock of positive facts. "The thirtyday poll has been completed and revised," he said yesterday in speaking of the situation. "Every doubtful and unknown voter has been looked up, and from the reports that come to me, and from the investigations of the committee, I place Denny's plurality at 3,000. This may seem to be placing the figure high, but in the light of the facts it may be considered a conservative estimate. Our work has been thorough, and extends to every precinct. The work is now complete, and we are ready for the election to day and are fully complete, and we are ready for the election to-day, and are fully equipped to go into it at any min-ute. We are only waiting for the day to come." The one encouraging feature of the campaign is the confidence that prevails in the ranks of the party generally. Never in the history of the party have the meetings of the committee been so largely attended, and never have the members of the com-mittee at large manifested such deep interest in every measure proposed for get-ting out the entire vote. The method of the campaign which was adopted at the very outstart has been adhered to, and the wisdom of the adoption has been shown day by day as the campaign advanced. The maso effectively arranged that it will be impossible for a hitch, and on that day each man will have his work so in hand that there will be no conflict of duties.

MORE OF THE SULLIVAN FRAUD. Neat Scheme Practiced by Which the First Ticket Was Obtained.

A contest between the two political parties without the perpetration or attempt to perpetrate frauds on the part of Democracy would be in the nature of a paradox. The ingenuity of the managers of the present city campaign on the behalf of Democracy runs only in the channel of devising some method of fraud by which to defeat the will of the people. This fact is not even passing strange when one stops for a moment to consider the highwaymen and criminals who have been assigned important positions in the management of the campaign. Not a day passes that some new scheme is not evolved and placed in the hands of the criminals for execution, for the purpose of preventing an honest ballot. The brightest geniuses of the Democratic party have tasked themselves with the formulating of a plan to serve as opening for a repetition of the wholesale puchase, of votes that was carried on so successfully at the last city election. The scheme followed last year was unavailable this election, because of its exposure in the columns of the Journal a few days ago. Those intellects of the op-position, however, that were trained in the ways of iniquity and crime were not long in concocting another plan by which to obtain possession of a ballot. Possession of a legal ballot once obtained, the channel for a prolific bribery is open and the blood money drawn from the gamblers is then available. The plan which has been evolved, and which it was intended to make use on next Tuesday to secure possession of ballots and get them outside the voting room, is even more ingenious than that followed at the last election. Its effect is the same however, and provides the foundation upon which is built the gigantic frauds by which the honest ballot is to be throttled. In-stead of having the Democratic clerk hand two ballots to the person intrusted with the work of getting possession of the ballot, the scheme has been slightly altered this year; the vote buyer was expected to enter the room and receive his single ballot from the clerk; he would then retire to the booth and stamp this ballot in the manner desired for operations on the outside. This ballot went into his inside pocket, and he then drew forth a piece of blank paper resembling a legal ballot in size and color; this paper was crumpled in his hand, and with it thus held he was to come into the election room and appropriate the into the election room and announce that he had spoiled his ballot, and secure a he had spoiled his ballot, and secure a second ballot. The supposed ballot, which he held crumpled in his hand, was to be handed to the Democratic clerk and immediately destroyed. The destruction of the bogus ballot would forever destroy the evidence of the crime, and the vote buyer, having secured the second ballot, retired to the booth, stamped the ballot, returned to the room and voted. After this, possession of the coveted ballot having been secured, the plan of purchase was the same as that followed at the last election. It was hoped that the concoction of this last scheme might be kept a secret until after the vote was in at least, but its discovery has again thwarted the schemes of the fraud workers. The Republican election officers have received instructions to be on the alert and watch for any at-tempt to perpetrate fraud, and take prompt action to secure the arrest of any person selected with a special regard for their ability to prevent any crime against the ballot from being successfully carried out. They have been instructed that the opposition will resort to all manner of devices to obtain an opening for the wholesale bribery, and to relax their vigilance only after the vote is in and counted, and the returns prepared.

More Evidence of Coy's "Pull." The Board of Works is still furnishing supplies to Sim Coy for his campaign in the about every candidate, save himself, and | Ninth ward. These supplies consist of not ordered done on the street, but the supplies are sent down in the ward and then turned over to the Democrat who is dis-affected. A few mornings ago two wagonloads of broken stone were sent by Coy from the Board of Works to a man named Flaherty, on Fletcher avenue. Flaherty said he had not ordered the stone, but the driver said that it had been sent to him. This stone was sent by Coy from the Board of Works.

Importing the Toughs.

The Republican city committee is receiving letters from the small cities near Indianapolis, stating that toughs from those cities are being sent for by the Democratic committee to come to this city the day becommittee to come to this city the day before election and serve as voters and bulldozers around the polls. Shelbyville is to furnish a quota of her toughest citizens, some of whom have already arrived and can be seen loafing around the "levee." The Republican committee has a large list of these toughs and they have been spotted.
If they attempt to vote on Tuesday they will be arrested and prosecuted.

Patrolman Simpson's Campaigning. The manner in which the nonpartisan policemen are working for the Sullivan machine is disgraceful. A man doing business on South Illinois street said, yesterday, that he saw patrolman Simpson jumping from street car to street car and talking politics to the street car men, with the evident purpose of persuading them to vote for Sul-livan. He was in full uniform at the time, and, presumably, on duty.
